placemark 11	Forsythell_Layers with Forsythell_Layers with Points and Photos_Long_Pais_Blakey_20180225	Long_Pais_Blakey	Drainage gullies. Dense DF. Wildlife trail passing through here.
Placemark 7	Long_points_20180220	Long_Pais_Blakey	Several rock fire pits in this area.
placemark 8	Forsythell_Layers with Forsythell_Layers with Points and Photos_Long_Pais_Blakey_20180225	Long_Pais_Blakey	Group of 3 >14" dbh trees here, surrounded by grouped large trees. Should be retained as groups, as they would cause damage to each other if thinned. Also, as most trees are scattered on the south facing hillside, with a lot of diseased trees, it makes placemark 9	Forsythell_Layers with Forsythell_Layers with Points and Photos_Long_Pais_Blakey_20180225	Long_Pais_Blakey	N Boundary of this unit should be moved south about 35' along the ridge. There is an alley, with trees on both sides, all along the ridge top. It makes most sense, aesthetically & forest health-wise, to leave these trees and thin on the slope below.
